

Next phase of Glossop Halls works underway

Labour Led High Peak Borough Council's exciting £7m regeneration to bring the Glossop Town Halls complex of buildings up to modern standards is underway!

Once complete there will be space in the complex for - community use, entrepreneurs and micro-businesses alongside the introduction of energy saving technologies and fibre broadband.

Councillor Anthony Mckeown, Labour Leader of the Council, said: "Work will soon be starting on the windows and clock tower repairs - including the clock."

"Despite some of the challenges, we are making good progress on this exciting scheme which will return these heritage buildings to the centre of community and business life. When complete they will be a real boost to our ambitions to give Glossop a thriving town centre and to ensure strong post-Covid recovery."

Councillor Damien Greenhalgh, Labour's Deputy Leader said: "I'd like to thank people for their patience whilst this important work is carried out."

"This is the year that will see the much-anticipated restoration of these important buildings completed and further improvements to town centre parking. I, and many, many people can't wait to see these buildings back in full community use and playing a modern, rejuvenated role in the life of our town. I'm confident that it will be worth the wait!"

Covid memorial trees planted

Every community has felt the impact of Covid and our Labour led borough council was keen to provide a lasting legacy to recognise and acknowledge the many ways in which people were affected by the pandemic.

During National Tree Week 13 oak trees were planted across the Borough.

The trees are all marked with a plaque of dedication and are in the following locations around Glossopdale:

Charlesworth and Chisworth - Charlesworth Recreation Ground; Gamesley - Roman Gardens; Glossop - Norfolk Square; Hadfield - Bankswood Park; Tintwistle - War Memorial.

Councillor Damien Greenhalgh, Labour's Deputy Leader said: "I hope these trees will become a focal point of remembrance for communities across the Borough and that these special places offer solace in the months and years to come."

The trees provide a place for people to take a moment to remember those that have been lost during the pandemic, and help to provide space for us all as we heal and recover.

Cllrs Anthony McKeown, deputy Mayor Cllr Ollie Cross and Cllr Ed Siddall admire the Bankswood Park tree.

Wheeling ahead on plans for Hadfield pump track

Labour councillors have welcomed the news work will soon start on installing a £85,000 pump track in Hadfield's Bankswood Park. Cllrs Ed Siddall, Bob McKeown, Ed Kelly and Ollie Cross all backed the plans to help young people get cycling. Volunteers secured £34,000 from British Cycling with the Labour-led council providing the remaining £51,000.

Labour's Deputy Council Damien Greenhalgh said: "By working cooperatively with local volunteers, we ensured that the track will be built to a design that meets our shared ambitions and expectations. "The wheels are now well and truly in motion and I look forward to seeing this track delivered and in full use soon!"
